MODELLING CORE

Shaped, notched and perforated, it consists of 3 layers:

A. Upper side in MEMORY FOAM, a modelling material that reduces pressure points to a minimum. It moulds itself and distributes the weight of the body over the entire surface.

B. Central insert, high density and highly flexible.

C. Bottom sheet with transverse aeration channels to define the 7 differentiated areas, guaranteeing a more even distribution of the pressure in critical parts of the body.
